Vol. XIV. BEDFORDSHIRE MARRIAGE LICENCES, 1747-1790.

Vol. XV. Do., 1791-1812 (with an Appendix, 1578-1618).

OTHER REGISTERS TRANSCRIBED BY THE EDITOR: Dunstable, 1558-1670; Eaton Bray, 1559-1754; Kensworth, 1615-1754; Luton, 1602-1754; Studham, 1570-1812; Totternhoe, 1559-1754.

NOTE ON THE BISHOP'S TRANSCRIPTS.— This term is used because it is the accepted name for the copies of the register sent every Easter to the bishop's registry, under the Canon of 1597. In a few areas (including Bedfordshire), where the archdeacon's jurisdiction was co-ordinate with that of the bishop, the archdeacon's registry received the copies, in which case the correct term would be 'Archdeacon's Transcripts.' For Bedfordshire they are extant from 1602 to 1871, and are fairly complete, except for the Civil War period (1643-49) and for various odd years. They comprise about 25,000 separate documents, and form part of the muniments of the Archdeaconry of Bedford which are housed in the County Record Office, Shire Hall, Bedford. For as many as 48 Bedfordshire parishes the earliest extant volume of the original register commences after 1602 (occasionally as late as the 18th century); in these cases the 'Bishop's Transcripts' are the sole source. In addition, the following defects in many original registers are often overcome with the aid of the 'Bishop's Transcripts': (a) missing leaves; (b) mutilated or incomplete entries; (c) illegible entries; (d) confused dates or arrangement. Further, the Transcripts yield facts not recorded in the Registers: these are denoted in the text by [†].

NOTE ON THE CHRONOLOGY OF THE COPIES. — Until 1752 the year in England commenced legally on 25 March. The edited copies of the registers retain this method.

MARRIAGE ENTRIES

Before 1754, the abode of the parties is not often stated, but when the parish the register of which is being copied is named it is abbreviated herein by its initial letter, e.g. in the register of Odell, (O) denoted "of the parish of Odell."

After 1754, the statutory form of register gives (i) the parish in which each party lives, (ii) whether married by banns or licence, and (iii) whether bachelor or widower, spinster or widow. In the edited copy, it is to be understood, unless otherwise stated, that all parties (i) belong to the parish being dealt with, (ii) are married by banns, and (iii) are bachelors or spinsters.

* The list is almost identical with that used in Boyd's Marriage Index (Society of Genealogists).

PARISH REGISTER
BEDFORD (ST.PETER)
(1572 - 1812)

WITH the issue of this volume, the registers of four of the five ancient Bedford parishes have been dealt with in this series. The remaining one, St.Paul, was much the largest as regards population. The parish of St.Peter, on the north-east of the borough, ranked third.

The first item of interest in the Register is a reference to the Plague. In 1575 thirty persons were buried, all of whom died of the plague. In September, 1607 twenty-five people were buried, six of one family and five of another, evidently this was another visitation of the dreaded scourge. In the year of the Great Plague in London, 1665, the burials at St.Peter were twice as numerous as the average.

The record during the sixty odd years ending in 1754 (when Lord Hardwicke's Act was passed) discloses that many 'foreign' marriages (i.e. where both parties were from outside parishes) took place at St.Peter's. From 1691 to 1708 ninety-four such couples are found, from 1709 to 1729 the number of outside marriages fell to six; but from 1730 to 1753 it rose to fifty. The entries for 1740-43 are numerous but the abodes of the parties are omitted, doubtless the majority were of non-parishioners as most of the names are strange to the St.Peter register. The fourteen marriages of Renhold people, 1730-39, are explained by the fact that Michael Arnold, rector of St. Peter, was also vicar of Renhold.

Between 1781 and 1812 six regiments are mentioned and five battalions of County Militia, viz. Bedford, Derby, Kent, Somerset and Wiltshire. Following the outbreak of war with France in 1793 there was a deluge of new battalions; one of these was the 90th Foot, raised in Scotland by Thomas Graham, afterwards Lord Lynedoch.¹ The Ninetieth came to Bedford a few months after its formation. In the winter of 1794/5 the regiment lost 14 men who were buried at St.Peter's. The 51st (Highland) Division was stationed in and around Bedford from August 1914 to May 1915. During that time many men died of measles; about 30 were buried in Bedford and as many more were interred in their native land. In the Highlands measles and other similar complaints are comparatively rare.

There are references to Methodists in the Baptisms of 1746 and in the Burials of 1745, 1748 and 1750. These were early converts; John Wesley's first visit to Bedford was not until 1753.

In the memoranda (p.46) is a record of the burials of five executed felons, sentenced at Bedfordshire Assizes. In 1718 a prisoner was married (presumably in Bedford Gaol) and another in 1719. A prisoner's child was baptised in 1721.

The Rev.Philip Hunt was rector of St.Peter from 1799 to 1835. The story of his career, as written by himself^x, is extraordinary (see Memoranda in Register p.47). In 1810 he ceded his living and was presented to the livings of Willington and Ravensden and was in the same month again inducted to the Rectory of St.Peter. His fourth incumbency (1817-1828) was that of Goldington. On his resigning from Goldington he became rector of Bedford St.John and Master of the Hospital (1828-35). His curate until 1808 was the Rev.John Hook, headmaster of Bedford School.

In laying the foundation for a new bridge at Bedford in 1811, Roman & mediaeval English coins, etc.were found (see Memoranda in Register p.48).

The St.Peter family names which seem to have persisted throughout the greater part of our period are: Brown (1572-1812), Leeds (1611-1793), Linford 1578-1811, Maynard (1595-1808), Palmer (1581-1808), and Warren (1603-1797).

The population of the parish in 1801 was 577 and in 1931 was 5881; its area is 560 acres. The adjoining parishes are Clapham, Goldington, Bedford St.Cuthbert and Bedford St.Paul.

Other Parish Records

Apart from the Bedford Borough Records, there are very few other parish records before 1812; several deeds, from 1693, were found in the Church.

(1558 - 1812)

FORMERLY the village of Goldington was about two miles distant from Bedford on the east side, but with the growth of the town the two are now practically joined. In 1934 the greater part of the parish was incorporated into the Borough of Bedford.

Transcription of the first volume of the Register, covering the period 1558 - 1705, proved rather difficult; the entries are crowded together and much of the writing has faded.

The earliest item of interest is the vicar's note about the abnormally severe winter of 1614/5 (p.39). Unfortunately there is no later comment.

Dr. Peter Bulkley, rector of Odell from 1621 to 1635, whose name is justly honoured among the earliest American settlers, was married in 1613 at Goldington to Jane Allein (Allen). He resigned his living in 1635 and joined the Pilgrim Fathers.¹

Elizabeth, the second daughter of John Bunyan, was married at Goldington to Gilbert Ashley in 1677. "This Gilbert Ashley the miller was a man of sufficient local importance to issue copper tokens in his own name. He was an earnest member of the Church under Bunyan's care; in 1672 Bunyan applied for a licence for Edward Isaac to preach at the house of Gilbert Ashley in Goldington. It is not known whether there were any children of this marriage."² A search in the indexes of all the registers so far dealt with in this series gave a negative result.

There is evidence that Nonconformity was strong in Goldington in the eighteenth century. A list of "Dissenters interr'd without ye Burial office & children not baptized" from 1721 to 1734 gives the names of fifteen adults, six of whom were buried in the Meeting House yard. In addition, nine persons are entered as "buried without the service" between 1730 and 1757.

Judith Waldoock "about a hundred years old" who was buried in 1701, is one of the few humble people of this period who can be proved to have reached a very advanced age: married in 1634, she had been baptised in 1605.

Broadly speaking, the average register contains no double christian names until the middle of the eighteenth century is reached. In Harlington Register is a baptism in 1686 of Anna Letitia Wingate. This was considered so remarkable as to be included in a list of early instances of two font names.³ The oldest example noted in this series, until now, is the christening of John Dudley Pateman in 1683 (Leighton Buzzard Register). These records are however easily beaten by an entry in Goldington Register, for in 1591 a child received the names of William Richard.

Comment has previously been made on the complete lack of uniformity in the spelling of surnames until about the end of the eighteenth century; in this volume the name Maynard has twenty variants and Haselden is spelt in fourteen different ways.

Lord Hardwicke's Marriage Act decreed that all parties must sign in a printed-form register. The proportion of illiterates in Goldington was rather higher than the average. From 1754 to 1812, 172 couples were married in the parish. Of these, only 55 bridegrooms and 34 brides signed; the remainder did so by mark. An analysis compiled from the 1754-1812 registers of the last 47 parishes dealt with gives the following figures:- Marriages 12,286; Bridegrooms who signed 5,208; Brides who signed 3,438; the rest only made their mark.

Volume III ends with the entries of 1812 and many leaves remained unused, but from 1811 to the present time notes on the chief events of parochial interest have been entered here. Like the similar modern memoranda in Meppershall Register, this record should prove to be very valuable.

The Goldington family names which seem to have persisted throughout the greater part of our period are: Clarke (1560-1807), Clayton (1611-1806), Cooke (1577-1811), Cooper (1572-1794), Hills (1597-1788) and Woodward (1560-1773).

The population of the parish in 1801 was 339 and in 1931 was 1440; its area is 2588 acres. The only hamlet is Putnoe. The adjoining parishes are Clapham, Ravensden, Renhold, Cople, Cardington and the three Bedford parishes of St.Cuthbert, St. Paul, and St.Peter.

The Register is contained in the following volumes:-
